

Kim Jenkins, Management Consultant/Center Director

Morehead State University SBDC – Ashland

Kim Jenkins has over 15 years of consulting experience with the Small Business Development Center in Ashland. In addition to her consulting duties, Kim founded Morehead State University's Northeast Kentucky Small Business Awards, a prestigious event conducted annually to honor small business success in Boyd, Carter and Greenup counties. Additionally, she developed the Morehead State University Regional Entrepreneur Conference, an annual educational/networking event for existing and potential entrepreneurs.

She has also served as an adjunct lecturer for Morehead State University's College of Business.

Prior to joining MSU, Kim worked in Human Resources, Safety, and Training for Columbia Gas Transmission in Huntington, WV. She also co-owned a retail/wholesale family business with her father in Ashland.

Education

Masters Degree, Business Education, Morehead State University

Bachelor of Science, Business Administration, Berea College

Certifications

Certified Business Advisor®, The University of Toledo, College of Business Administration Graduate Program, 2007

Awards

Morehead State University Distinguished Staff Award, 2008

Daily Independent's Top 50 business leaders under the age of 40, 2008

Kentucky State Star, 2000

Involvement

Vice President, People Helping People, Inc.

Member, Ashland Alliance/Chamber of Commerce of Boyd & Greenup Counties

Committee Member, Ashland Community & Technical College's Tri-State Capital Investment Club & Entrepreneur Center

Contact

Kim Jenkins, Center Director/Management Consultant

Ashland SBDC

1645 Winchester Avenue, 2nd Floor

Ashland, KY 41101

Email: k.jenkins@moreheadstate.edu

Phone: 606.329.8011

Fax: 606.324.4570